

ABSTRACT

An electronic device includes a cooling apparatus having: a primary cooling unit which is disposed in close proximity with an electronic device so as to face a surface thereof; an auxiliary cooling unit which is disposed in close proximity with the electronic device so as to face a surface thereof; and a controller which drives at least one of the primary cooling unit and the auxiliary cooling unit so as to cool the electronic device.